Special Thanks to:

Scott Monett, Hank's sister, and a former staffer who wishes to remain anonymous for distributing fliers, John Lee for a dapper bit of British slang, Michelle Hlubinka for last minute graphix excellence, Todd's roommates for taking messages, Stefani Engelstein for providing wheels, the New Journal for loaning us an ad design, and Winston Churchill for keeping Britain in the war so this issue would be possible. No thanks to the Vernacular for clipping our ad without asking. You get Sudler funding, for God's sake.

It is not often that in the course of human events such a fabulous nation as sturdy Mother Britain comes about. It is so exceedingly rare, in fact, that in the four billion years since our planet came into existence, it has happened only once. This in itself is remarkable. So remarkable, in fact, that we here in Parliament, under the instruction of the Ministry of Tourism and the Ministry of Shameless Self-Aggrandisement, have elected to put a large, glossy advert in a major American publication to show it off.

Madame Thatcher, whose opinion I always respect, having some greater knowledge of the Colonies than myself, suggested that we place our colour supplement in the Record. Naturally, I deferred to the Iron Lady. How right she was, for we soon learned that the sum we had to spend was quite enough to purchase not only a sizeable advert, but the entire magazine! They even agreed to compile it themselves! What fabulous twist! I thanked Madame Thatcher heartily and commended her on her thrift (and also her exceedingly excellent taste in petticoats).

In any case, I assume that this sumptuous commercial enticement will prompt all of you ignorant Yanks to immediately cross the mighty Atlantic to squander your hard-earned dollars on cheap trinkets that look like Big Ben or vinyl kilts. In case you have any remaining reservations, let me remind you that upcoming 1992 will mark the fiftieth anniversary of the date that the first American air squadrons arrived to rescue our fair buttocks from the threat of Fascism. We say "United States of America Come Home!" All is forgiven! We understand now that your revolution was just a phase. Our GNP welcomes you.

I hope you enjoy "Brits," and I wish the Record continued sol-
