

Yale Record

BUZZWORD BINGO

Welcome to campus, Class of 2011, from the Yale Record!

To encourage proper reverence during President Levin's stirring welcome speech, we're providing this handy Bingo game. Just check the box when President Levin says the phrase or does the action within. If you get three in a row, cough loudly; four in a row, fake a sneeze; and five in a row, mumble "Bingo" and exchange seats with the person three seats to your left. Good luck!

L	E	V	I	N
"global university"	"terrible mistakes at the admissions office"	"dawning" or "sunrise"	"I went to Stanford"	"community of scholars"
inane redundancy	"Mitt Romney"	"generous alumni"	"the Second Amendment"	"America's premier junior polar bear gladiator"
"superb faculty"	"mediocre faculty"	"YALE"	"proud tradition"	"Accept Jesus Christ as your Lord and Savior"
"liberal arts education"	(in low, reverent whisper) "China"	"our most unexceptional class yet"	"journey," "trek," or "passage"	"Toad's"
a horticultural metaphor comparing students to fecund soil	dramatic clearing of the throat	"Foster" (verb or Jodie)	flying spittle	"legacy of racial oppression"

Word Jumble!

How many words can you make by scrambling the letters of the following word:

YALE

Double points for alcoholic beverages.

HELLO

my name is:
my residential college is:
I am from:

you now know everything about me.